

1,300 cases produced in 2006.

Winemaker

August Briggs has a way with this grape called Chardonnay.

Carneros is one of the oldest wine regions in California, with a wine history dating back to the mid 19th century. Carneros is the southern end of Napa and Sonoma counties. Its vineyards are cooled afternoons by a breeze from the San Pablo Bay.

This Chardonnay is elegant, concentrated and balanced. Rich in flavor and texture with tones of stone, pear, citrus, hazelnut, fig and apricot ending with a long, lingering, harmonious finish.

1,300 cases produced in 2006.

Winemaker

August Briggs has a way with this grape called Chardonnay.

Carneros is one of the oldest wine regions in California, with a wine history dating back to the mid 19th century. Carneros is the southern end of Napa and Sonoma counties. Its vineyards are cooled afternoons by a breeze from the San Pablo Bay.

This Chardonnay is elegant, concentrated and balanced. Rich in flavor and texture with tones of stone, pear, citrus, hazelnut, fig and apricot ending with a long, lingering, harmonious finish.

1,300 cases produced in 2006.

Winemaker

August Briggs has a way with this grape called Chardonnay.

Carneros is one of the oldest wine regions in California, with a wine history dating back to the mid 19th century. Carneros is the southern end of Napa and Sonoma counties. Its vineyards are cooled afternoons by a breeze from the San Pablo Bay.

This Chardonnay is elegant, concentrated and balanced. Rich in flavor and texture with tones of stone, pear, citrus, hazelnut, fig and apricot ending with a long, lingering, harmonious finish.

1,300 cases produced in 2006.

Winemaker

August Briggs has a way with this grape called Chardonnay.

Carneros is one of the oldest wine regions in California, with a wine history dating back to the mid 19th century. Carneros is the southern end of Napa and Sonoma counties. Its vineyards are cooled afternoons by a breeze from the San Pablo Bay.

This Chardonnay is elegant, concentrated and balanced. Rich in flavor and texture with tones of stone, pear, citrus, hazelnut, fig and apricot ending with a long, lingering, harmonious finish.

1,300 cases produced in 2006.

Winemaker

August Briggs has a way with this grape called Chardonnay.

Carneros is one of the oldest wine regions in California, with a wine history dating back to the mid 19th century. Carneros is the southern end of Napa and Sonoma counties. Its vineyards are cooled afternoons by a breeze from the San Pablo Bay.

This Chardonnay is elegant, concentrated and balanced. Rich in flavor and texture with tones of stone, pear, citrus, hazelnut, fig and apricot ending with a long, lingering, harmonious finish.

1,300 cases produced in 2006.

Winemaker

August Briggs has a way with this grape called Chardonnay.

Carneros is one of the oldest wine regions in California, with a wine history dating back to the mid 19th century. Carneros is the southern end of Napa and Sonoma counties. Its vineyards are cooled afternoons by a breeze from the San Pablo Bay.

This Chardonnay is elegant, concentrated and balanced. Rich in flavor and texture with tones of stone, pear, citrus, hazelnut, fig and apricot ending with a long, lingering, harmonious finish.