

Foillard's Morgon is a beauty in '06, but what else is new?
Talk about user friendly! His vines are on the famed Côte du Py terroir in Morgon, a granite hillside that produces some of the greatest Gamay in the world. Foillard manages to harness the power and stoniness of this terroir while enrobing it in a wine so sensuously textured, there is never a rough edge, only the purest expression of fruit that's simply a pleasure to drink. Cellar some.
