Tasting Notes:

Big blind, small blind, whatever folks, this is high rollers' poker and the nose is flush with chocolate. Three times for emphasis: chocolate, chocolate, chocolate. If you let this wine get the air it deserves (DECANT!) you'll be rewarded with a nose that Hershey himself would go all-in for. This Four Kings pockets that full-blown chocolate nose, backed by just a touch of vanilla crème and bright cherry. The palate flops with the chocolate that has no intention of going anywhere, cherries, blackberries, cassis, and that fine Alexander Valley earth. Stack up your chips, because this wine has four different labels, each with a different King, and they hold court in a four-bottle wooden box that counts as your Ace kicker. We couldn't be more proud to show our cards with this Four Kings, perhaps the best wine we've ever made.
