

Syrah

Old Lakeville Road. The Sangiacomo Family developed this vineyard in the mid-1990's using budwood from Cornas, Hermitage and Côte-Rôtie. Sonoma Coast is proving to be one of the most favorable spots for Syrah in California. This is Neyers' third bottling of wine from the Old Lakeville Road vines, and each has been regarded as one of the best bottlings of California-produced Syrah from its vintage.

Syrah

Old Lakeville Road. The Sangiacomo Family developed this vineyard in the mid-1990's using budwood from Cornas, Hermitage and Côte-Rôtie. Sonoma Coast is proving to be one of the most favorable spots for Syrah in California. This is Neyers' third bottling of wine from the Old Lakeville Road vines, and each has been regarded as one of the best bottlings of California-produced Syrah from its vintage.

Syrah

Old Lakeville Road. The Sangiacomo Family developed this vineyard in the mid-1990's using budwood from Cornas, Hermitage and Côte-Rôtie. Sonoma Coast is proving to be one of the most favorable spots for Syrah in California. This is Neyers' third bottling of wine from the Old Lakeville Road vines, and each has been regarded as one of the best bottlings of California-produced Syrah from its vintage.

Syrah

Old Lakeville Road. The Sangiacomo Family developed this vineyard in the mid-1990's using budwood from Cornas, Hermitage and Côte-Rôtie. Sonoma Coast is proving to be one of the most favorable spots for Syrah in California. This is Neyers' third bottling of wine from the Old Lakeville Road vines, and each has been regarded as one of the best bottlings of California-produced Syrah from its vintage.

Syrah

Old Lakeville Road. The Sangiacomo Family developed this vineyard in the mid-1990's using budwood from Cornas, Hermitage and Côte-Rôtie. Sonoma Coast is proving to be one of the most favorable spots for Syrah in California. This is Neyers' third bottling of wine from the Old Lakeville Road vines, and each has been regarded as one of the best bottlings of California-produced Syrah from its vintage.

Syrah

Old Lakeville Road. The Sangiacomo Family developed this vineyard in the mid-1990's using budwood from Cornas, Hermitage and Côte-Rôtie. Sonoma Coast is proving to be one of the most favorable spots for Syrah in California. This is Neyers' third bottling of wine from the Old Lakeville Road vines, and each has been regarded as one of the best bottlings of California-produced Syrah from its vintage.

